WATCH THE SPOILSMEN.

The people of Nevada, independent of party, pretend to be in favor of the full remonetization of silver. Heretofore the people have been divided politically into two parties. Both those parties claimed to favor the restoration of silver to its Constitutional position, the place which it occupied before the passage of the Act of 1873, which it is said cost the bondholders half a million dollars. This year both parties in their national conventions gave the lie to their former pretensions by openly declaring against the free coinage of silver until Europe, which produces no silver and, as is alleged, spent one hundred thousand pounds sterling to get the Congress to demonetize it, agrees to restore it to its old standard.

As the remonetization of silver is of paramount importance to the people of Nevada, concerns them, in fact, more than the tariff on iron and steel does the people of Pennsylvania, or the bounty on sugar does the sugar makers of Vermont and Louisiana, the masses in this State, as in other silver-producing States, have freed themselves from the shackles of party and declared that as the Republican and Democratic organizations are opposed to the paramount industry of the State, they, the people, look upon both as enemies of the commonwealth and will not support for any office any man who advocates the election of either the Republican or Democratic nominee for President.

In several counties in the State over ninety per cent. of the voters have solemnly pledged each to the other to vote for no man for Legislative or Executive office who is not pledged by platform and declaration to do all in his power to remonetize silver. One would naturally suppose that, as free coinage concerns the whole people of the State, there would be practically a unanimous sentiment in its favor. Strange to say, such is not the case. There are men who hold office and men who expect office, both State and Federal, who are doing all in their power by, appeals to old party prejudices, to divert attention from this great issue and get the people of Nevada to support men for office who are opposed to the chief industry of the State. There are men to whom the overburdened taxpayers of the State are paying salaries, devoting their whole time and whatever ability they may possess to the task of deluding people into the belief that party has stronger claims for their support than the welfare of the State.

As the party lash is being vehemently wielded and vigorously applied by political strikers just now to keep those who evince a disposition to vote for the interests of the State, in the party harness, it is well to note what is transpiring, as a day of reckoning is at hand. The next Legislature will be controlled by silver men, who will doubtless see that the people are not taxed to pay salaries to "precinct statesmen" to work against the interests of the State.

ARE OUR PROFESSIONS A SHAM?

The Belmont Courier, which has been a strict Republican paper, places State prosperity above party success. In discussing the political situation it says: "If Nevada shall cast its usual vote for the Republican and Democratic Presidential nominees this year, all the professions of devotion to the cause of free coinage by Nevada voters are shown to the world to be a sham; their resolutions to be air and their earnestness a joke. Nevada in the silver struggle of the future would be stripped of all moral force—it would justly become a reproach and by-word to the cause."

CARNEGIE, THE PHILANTHROPIST.

Andrew Carnegie is the philanthropist who wrote an article for the North American review about a year ago, in which he defended the demonetization of silver and lauded the single gold money standard. He is, says the Denver News, the child of high tariff and silver demonetization. Both have tended to make him one of the richest men in the world. Fattening upon a tariff that gives the steel trust, of which he is the chief beneficiary, a monopoly of the steel and iron trade and doubling the value of his ill-gotten gains by striking down silver as money, he was quite capable of the heartless and cruel out in wages that resulted in the late tragedy at his works.

TRouble IN IDAHO.

The scenes at Carnegie's works in Pennsylvania have been almost repeated at Wallace, Idaho, where union miners have been fighting non-union men imported from Wisconsin to take their places. Four men were killed yesterday. Two of them union miners, and the others guards at the Gem mine, and several others were wounded. The Frisco mill was blown up with dynamite and a number of non-union miners surrendered.

The cause of the trouble in the Coeur d'Alene mines was the proposed reduction in wages. Some months ago the mine owners undertook to reduce wages to three dollars per day. The union miners struck and the mines were closed. The mine owners determined to resume operations with imported miners. The union men objected and several of the leaders were arrested and enjoined by Judge Beatty of the United States District Court from interfering with the working of the mines. Yesterday morning the non-union men commenced work with the result stated.

It is unfortunate, to say the least, that in the best country on which the sun shines, men have to resort to violence to settle questions which ought to be amicably arranged by arbitration. Some remedy must be applied and the most efficacious seems to be wholesome legislation. There are to-day in the United States over one hundred trusts or combinations formed for the express purpose of controlling the supply and regulating the price of certain articles, many of which are among the necessities of life. So long as these are permitted to exist legislation directed against labor organizations cannot be considered by persons who love fair play. While all concede that something must be done to prevent the recurrence of the tragedies enacted at Homestead, and Wallace. Every fair-minded person feels that it would be grossly unjust to prevent labor from organizing for the purpose of keeping up its market value when capital is permitted to make all kinds of combinations to restrict the production and increase the price of certain articles. The trouble is capital can accomplish its purpose without resorting to violence, while labor organizations can do nothing unless by persuasion, threats or force they can keep others from taking their place when they strike for higher wages.

Senate Proceedings.
WASHINGTON, July 11.—Washburn occupied the attention of the Senate for more than two hours to-day with an elaborate argument in favor of the Anti-Option bill. The Senate afterwards considered the Civil bill, the question pending being on Quay's amendment requiring the Columbian Exposition to close on Sunday. The matter provoked a discussion lasting two hours and a half and was not finished when they adjourned.

House Proceedings.
WASHINGTON, July 11.—A disagreeing report was presented on the Army Appropriation bill, the contention being the Senate amendment striking out the provision that no money shall be used for army transportation over non-bonded railroads controlled by the Union and Southern Pacific Railroads. No further conference was ordered and the House adjourned.

Fire in San Francisco.
SAN FRANCISCO, July 11.—About a quarter of a block at Fifteenth and Howard streets was destroyed by fire this afternoon. The total loss is $65,000. Among the property destroyed were the coal yards, a grocery and a dozen or more dwellings.

Two Epitaphs.
Remarkable are two epitaphs, the first of which is said to be upon a tombstone in the city of Sacramento: "Here is laid Daniel Borrow, who was born in Sorrow, and Borrowed little from Nature except his name and his love to mankind and hatred to redskins; who was nevertheless a gentleman and a dead shot; who, through a long life, never killed his man except in self defense or by accident, and who, when he at last went under, beneath the bullets of his cowardly enemies in the saloon of Jeff Morris, did so in the sure and certain hope of a glorious and everlasting Morrow."

The other, which belongs to a Nevada burying place, is a noteworthy achievement in this line. "Sacred to the Memory of Hank Monk—the Whitest, Biggest-hearted, and Best-known Stage-driver of the West; who was kind to All and Thoughtful of None. He Lived in a Strange Era, and was a Hero, and the Wheels of his Coach are now Ringing on Golden-Streets."—Chambers Journal.

Philadelphia Pretzels.
Philadelphia pretzels are a thing by themselves; that is, the genuine Philadelphia pretzel is, but unscrupulous manufacturers have been making imitations with machinery which have served to lessen the high standard raised by the reputation of the homemade pretzel. The pretzel came over with the Dutch, and it is still found in its original purity in Lancaster and Berks counties, the inhabitants of which have been so many generations in this country that they are unable to speak their mother tongue. They have not been here long enough to learn English, so they make their pretzels as they were taught, and talk the language which they have manufactured.—New York Sun.

Soapbuds are Valuable.
Few persons know how very useful soapbuds prove when employed as manure. Applied to the roots of vines, fruit trees, roses, etc., they impart a vigor and rapidity of growth which is perfectly surprising. No one who is so lucky as to have a garden should waste this valuable form of manure. It is an excellent plan to have a large tub, and put the soapbuds and dirty water into it all required upon the garden.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Medicine Lake.
Medicine lake is a wonder that draws many visitors annually—a body of water that does not contain a living thing, and at certain hours of the day is full of a gelatinous, spongelike substance that sinks and leaves the water clear. At the lake are two mountains, one of pure obsidian, the other of pumice stone in layers.—Fowler Four Corners.

ANOTHER BLOODY BATTLE.

The Coeur d'Alene Miners Fight a Battle—Several Killed and Wounded.
WALLACE, Idaho, July 11.—The strained situation in the Coeur d'Alene labor troubles culminated this morning between 5 and 6 o'clock. Among the events of the day previous were challenges from non-union men at the Frisco and Gem mines to the union miners, and at the town of Gem all seemed to indicate a speedy rupture. Both the Gem and Frisco mines were guarded by men behind barricades, armed with Winchester, and as the canyon is narrow where the mines are located, the men behind the barricades could sweep two railroad tracks and the county roads with bullets.

The Gem mine barricade is within 300 feet of the town of Gem. This morning at 5 o'clock a miner from Gem started for Burke and when opposite the Frisco mine he was fired upon. He ran back to Gem several hundred yards, where the shot was heard, and soon the miners in town gathered with arms. They marched in a body toward the Frisco mine. When shortly, within rifle range a volley from the Frisco mine greeted the miners and lead whistled all about them. They scattered and a regular battle ensued. One miner and one non-union man were killed and perhaps six were wounded during the engagement. The miners, in the meantime got around on the hills up the canyon above the mine loaded a Union Pacific car with 750 pounds of giant powder and sent the car down the track toward the Frisco mine. Directly in front of the mill an explosion occurred, shattering the mill to splinters and making a complete wreck. The non-union men then showed a white flag and surrendered. They were marched down to the miners' union hall and guarded, no indignities being offered after their surrender. While the fight was going on at Frisco, the Gem guards suddenly began firing volley after volley into the town of Gem, riddling the buildings with bullets. John Ward a citizen, was shot through the arm and Gus Carlson, a union miner, was shot and fell. All attempts to recover Carlson's body were met with a volley from the Gem breastworks, and when the body was recovered an hour afterwards, he was dead, having been shot through the breast. No shots were returned from Gem until the armed miners from Frisco half a mile above Gem returned.

About 8 o'clock a truce occurred and the sheriff, district attorney and deputy U. S. Marshals appeared on the scene. A truce was stopped by armed guards at the Gem mine and the sheriff took the mail on his shoulders and passed on to Gem. The guards leveled rifles at him but dropped them when they learned his identity. At Gem several hundred men were huddled in the street with rifles and revolvers. Peace negotiations were immediately set on foot and a truce declared. At 12 o'clock the Gem mine forces had surrendered to the union men.

The number killed, so far as can be learned, is four, and the wounded is about ten, though there may be bodies under the Frisco mill. Two of the killed are Gus Carlson and Harry Cummings, union miners, and the other two are non-union men whose names are unknown. The wounded are: John Ward, Hugh Campbell, struck with a rifle over the head, not dangerous; J. W. Gankargogor, a union man, shot through the hips, who will die; Gam Peters from Tacoma, shot in the head but not fatally; George Pettibone, a union man, shot through the hand.

The Frisco and Gem were the only non-union mines in the east end of Coeur d'Alene. There is still considerable excitement everywhere but no further trouble is expected.

SPOKANE, Wash., July 11.—It is impossible at this hour (6 p. m.) to learn the exact condition of affairs at Coeur d'Alene. It is known, however, that nine men are dead; that the Frisco mill has been destroyed by dynamite and that the Gem mine has been surrendered to the strikers and the employees taken to Wallace. A dispatch from the superintendent of the Gem mine reports one man killed at the Gem and the other eight at the Frisco. To avoid further bloodshed he surrendered and is now in charge of the guard appointed by President O'Brien of the union.

BOISE CITY, July 11.—Governor Wiley has ordered Company "A," National Guard, of this place to report at 8 a. m. and hold themselves in readiness to proceed to the Coeur d'Alene troubles. It is thought an effective State force cannot be sent there. United States Marshal Pinkham has laid the matter before the Attorney General at Washington.

BOISE, Idaho, July 11.—The companies of State troops which the Governor ordered to hold themselves ready to march are mere skeletons and cannot muster sufficient force to cope with any determined mob. Last evening the Governor decided to call on the President for assistance, and has sent a dispatch to that effect. He will start the militia by special train to-morrow morning as soon as the Union Pacific can get cars here for their transportation.

PORTLAND, July 11.—It is reported late this afternoon that twenty non-union miners were killed in the explosion at the Frisco mine in Coeur d'Alene district. No confirmation of the report has been received.

The Situation at Homestead.

HOMESTEAD, Pa., July 11.—The white wings of peace are hovering over Homestead to-night. The militia is to be received with open arms by the mill workers, and special police, one hundred strong, are selected from the ranks of the strikers to see that no indignity is offered the uniformed representatives of the State. This afternoon a meeting, attended by about 6,000 people, was held, over which Burgess McLukie presided. Although Burgess of Homestead, McLukie is one of the most prominent leaders of the strikers, and said: We want to arrange for the reception of the strikers such as they never thought of. We want our people to welcome the militia with open arms. Governor Pattison is just the man and will not permit the troops of this State to perpetrate any outrage upon the people. It is an evident fact that the Pinkerton people are again mobilizing forces. Our Governor does not want any bloodshed here, and so our friends who are about to come are the safest people you could possibly be in with. I do not want the mobilized representation to be insulted by the least indication of displeasure, and if any man is indiscreet enough to do an act of this kind he should be taken to the river and drowned, and I will be one to help it. [Good, and applause.]

A mill worker moved that any man offering insult to the troops be taken to the river and drowned. The motion prevailed by acclamation, and special policemen were instructed to carry it out. The burgess said the plan is to get every band in Homestead to welcome the militia. He announced that he would issue a proclamation inviting all persons not connected with the mills and having no business in the city to keep away while the militia should be here. The meeting adjourned amid much enthusiasm.

Representative Stone's Views.

WASHINGTON, July 11.—Representative Stone embodied the views of the minority of the Coinage Committee who are opposed to the Senate free coinage bill saying: "The bill is a conglomeration of crudities and absurdities, clumsy in structure, uncertain of interpretation, dangerous and perilous in operation and effect." A repeal of the law of July 14, 1890, says the report, would cause a material fall in the market value of silver bullion. The passage of the bill would obliterate all hope of practical results from the International Monetary Conference. If we can retain the present proportionate share of the gold of the world, the necessity of Europe for more currency will induce a rehabilitation of silver as a money metal among nations.

Arrested for Sending a Challenge.

TACOMA, Wash., July 11.—H. Harris, editor of the Sun, the People's party organ, was to-day arrested, charged with having issued a challenge to W. A. Ryan, a reporter on the News, to fight a duel. The trouble arose at an anti-Pinkerton meeting Friday. Harris made a slighting remark because the editor of the News was not present, and Ryan's remark that this was ungentlemanly caused Harris to become very angry. He immediately demanded satisfaction according to the code of honor.

Dyspepsia

Makes the lives of many people miserable, and often leads to self-destruction. Distress after eating, sour stomach, sick headache, heartburn, loss of appetite, a faint, "all gone" feeling, bad taste, coated tongue, and irregularity of the bowels, are some of the more common symptoms. Dyspepsia does not get well of itself. It requires careful, persistent attention, and a remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which acts gently, yet surely and efficiently, it tones the stomach and other organs, regulates the digestion, creates a good appetite, and by thus overcoming the local symptoms removes the systemic effects of the disease, banishes the headache, and restores the tired mind, the headache, and restores the tired mind, the headache, and restores the tired mind.

"Smoking is a vile habit," says the moral reformer; yet, when we see what a source of comfort a pipe is to many a poor hard worked man, we should hesitate to condemn. Many men through ignorance lose half the pleasure of the pipe by smoking inferior tobacco.

"SEAL OF NORTH CAROLINA" is thoroughly matured and blended for the pipe. Smokers themselves have made it the most popular in the United States.

WHY THE FARMERS ARE IN POLITICS.

They Have Been Duped Long Enough by Strikers.

EDITOR JOURNAL:—At the People's Party Convention, held at Omaha, the farmers were well represented, and their interests were not ignored in the platform. The Nebraska delegates carried a banner that illustrated more than whole volumes could—the situation of the farming community. On one side of the banner was inscribed, "What is Home Without a Mortgage? Don't All Speak at Once." While on the other side was the picture of a settler's cabin, on the side of which was a large gold coin with a goldbug's face, with the legend, "Money Lender."

A great many plain truths were told in the Omaha Convention. The delegates were not political strikers, sent there by the money powers to nominate men who would further the interests of the Shylocks, and to frame platforms that would mystify the people; but men who told in plain language what they wanted, and what their principles were.

In 1850 the farmers represented five-eighths of the taxable property of the United States, while in 1890 they represented less than one-fifth. This is not all; the farmer's property is encumbered with mortgages, and their real wealth, after their debts are canceled, can be represented with a cipher. According to a Census Bulletin recently issued, five States, Alabama, Tennessee, Iowa, Illinois and Kansas, for the ten years ending December 31, 1899, recorded nearly two million mortgages to secure debts amounting, in the aggregate, to more than two billion dollars. The interest amounted to more than the yearly interest on the national debt. Under the present conditions it is impossible for the producers to meet their interest obligations and they settle it by giving a new mortgage with a part or all of the interest added to the principal, so that the interest can also draw interest. Nothing will satisfy a goldbug, in settlement of interest, except gold coin or an interest-bearing bond. With this kind of a showing it is useless for the tariff tinkers to tell the farmers how prosperous we are, and that if we will continue to let the Democrats and Republicans run it we will continue to prosper. They will admit that times are a little tight, but with a little more tinkering of the tariff, if the farmers will only wait a little longer for developments everything will come out all right. The farmers have been waiting for more than a quarter of a century for the Democratic and Republican parties to develop something for their benefit, and the result is several billion dollars of farm mortgages. The farmers have had all of that kind of development they want, and that is the reason why they are in politics.

FARMER.
The Suicide Calm and Collected to the Last.

Albert Leo Evans, who took a dose of corrosive sublimate last Saturday with suicidal intent, died in the County Hospital yesterday. He remained conscious all day Sunday, and informed Dr. Lewis and some acquaintances who called on him that he did not regret the act and had no desire to live. He refused to have a clergyman visit him, saying that he would shortly solve the problem of the future.

Coroner Peers held an inquest on the body yesterday and impaneled a jury, consisting of H. Northrup, Thomas Branton, Henry Orr, S. W. Park, Frank Wyatt and William Baugh, to inquire into the cause of the death of the deceased A. L. Evans.

Dr. Lewis, who was called to attend him, stated that deceased had informed him that he had taken bi-chloride of mercury and the symptoms indicated that he was suffering from that poison.

George E. Holsworth stated that the deceased had been employed in his photograph gallery, and that he had taken poison as he wanted to solve the mystery of the great beyond.

Officer Campbell testified to finding deceased in the road beyond Mrs. Lake's residence.

The jury found that the deceased was named Albert L. Evans, that he was a native of England, aged 35 years, and that he came to his death from poison administered by his own hands.

Deceased claimed to have a sister named Mrs. M. M. Body living in London, England, in efficient circumstances, and Mr. Holsworth called her news of her brother's death and asked what disposition should be made of the body. In the event of no instructions to the contrary the funeral will take place from Mr. Sanders' parlor on Virginia street this afternoon.

Ventilation.
Not the politician's sort, but the fresh air you need. Health and comfort often suffer for this kind of ventilation. Never sleep in a poorly ventilated room. You wake up unrefreshed, out of sorts, and bilious. Perhaps you cannot improve the ventilation, but you can take Simons Liver Regulator for that torpid liver, to keep it active against the ill effects of a close atmosphere which causes that languid feeling.

Some Dangers to Be Avoided.

The average boy is very apt to risk his life and health in many ways in summer. When unrestrained he takes a great many more chances than he would otherwise do. The chief danger to life and health of boys who spend the summer in the country is from overexertion in sports, and by indulging in too much swimming. The exhilaration of country life makes them feel that they can do more than their strength admits of. This is equally true of city boys who get a day or two off from their work. The best way to do is to take exercise moderately. If a boy is not used to long walks, he should begin his summer outing with an easy jog along some pleasant road for only a mile or two. By increasing the distance gradually each day, it will not be long before he can do ten or fifteen miles, or twenty for that matter, without discomfort, and in reality making a positive gain to his health. This rule applies equally well to horseback and bicycle riding, rowing and other work boys may be unaccustomed to. One of the chief and healthful amusements of a summer outing is bathing, but there is no part of the visit where the danger is so great as in going in swimming too often, and at times when the water is too cold. Not a summer passes that thousands of boys are not permanently injured by going in swimming at times when they should not do so. The waves on the seashore, the running streams and the fresh water lakes are very enticing on hot days. Foster Coates in Ladies' Home Journal.

Photographing Flying Bullets.
Much interest has been excited among photographers by Professor Boys' account of how he succeeded in photographing flying bullets. He succeeded in securing a photographic picture of a rifle ball passing through the air at the scarcely conceivable speed of 2,000 feet in a second. The source of illumination was the electric spark, such as that given by the discharge of a Leyden jar. The most remarkable circumstance is that the camera and lens were for this occasion dispensed with, and the gelatine plate exposed direct with the shadow of the missile as it traversed the intervening space between the plate and the light source.

The next thing that had to be considered was the best means of causing the bullet to turn on the electricity for its own portraiture, the motion of a flying bullet being too rapid a nature to admit of any other procedure. At first two copper wires were placed in the path of the projectile, the notion being that the bullet itself would make the necessary metallic bridge between them. But the wires were shot away before doing what was expected of them. Lead wires were then substituted with success.—London Public Opinion.

A Letter's Long Wandering.
On July 28, 1885, a gentleman of this city mailed a letter addressed to "Hon. A. M. Swope, American legation, Rome, Italy," with the request that if not called for in five days it should be returned. The long absent missive has been received by the writer after having been in the mails six years and two months.

The envelope bears the first postmark "Louisville, July 23, 1885, 9 a. m." and the time of its return, "May 14, 1892, 6 p. m." The reverse side of the envelope is covered with marks, among them Rome and New York, each giving the date on which the letter was handled in those cities.

Mr. Swope, who at the time was on a tour around the world, was the well known Kentucky Republican leader. Killed several years ago in an altercation at Lexington, by William C. Swope's Good-bye.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

The Time to Counterfeit.
The best time to successfully counterfeit a coin is just after it is first issued. The new halves and quarter dollars are being successfully counterfeited just at present. The people have seen so few of the genuine new coins, owing to the fact that they have not worked their way westward, that they scarcely know what to expect. About half of the new half dollars in circulation in Kansas City are composed for a great part of lead, but well made. They won't ring at all when dropped on a hard surface.—Kansas City Times.

A Dog Steals Newspapers.
Newspapers have been mysteriously stolen from doorsteps in Chicago, watch was set and a little black and tan dog was discovered to be the culprit. Though chased, the dog escaped, and was detected twenty minutes later stealing another paper. The brute takes any kind of newspaper regardless of politics or quality of news matter. The police have a description and are looking for the animal.—Chicago Letter.

The Bank Clerk.—It's a shame the way some men rob their employers by loafing when they're paid to work. There's a bricklayer on that new building across the street who hasn't done a stroke for an hour—I know it, because I've done nothing but watch him.—London Tit-Bits.

Teething at Ninety-five.
Michael Fritz, of Friedensburg, the oldest man in Schuylkill county, has had three sets of teeth and is likely to get a fourth.
On his eighty-first birthday he was tendered a big surprise party by members of his family and friends, and it turned surprised his visitors by showing them three perfectly formed pearly white teeth in his upper jaw, where for years there had been none. These three disappeared several years afterward and Mr. Fritz resumed the use of his false teeth until a short time ago, when another set of natural teeth began to make their appearance. Four teeth have already grown, and there is reason to believe a full set will make its appearance. Mr. Fritz is ninety-five years of age.—Cor. Philadelphia Press.

An Astute Land Grabber.

One of the most lofty and ambitious grabbers in the state of Montana was not long ago observed to be engaged in a most mysterious business. He was taking women out into the wilderness, a stage load or two at a time. They were very reputable women—school teachers, typewriters, married women, and their friends. They were taken to a large and pleasantly situated house, upon the pretext that they were to attend a ball and a dinner and get $100 as a present. It all proved true. Excursion party after excursion party went out in this way, and when the ladies returned to the town that had thus been pillaged of its beauty they reported that they had fared upon venison and wild fowl, with the very best of "fixings," and that at the ball a number of staid and dashing cowboys had become their partners, tripping their light fantastic measures with an enthusiasm which made up for any lack of grace that they might have had. The reader may fancy what a lark it was to the women who were thus wedded to the more mischievous of the grabbers. They were maidens, heart whole and free of fancy! But while these women were in the thick of this pleasure they each signed a formal claim to a homesteaders' rights in the lands thereabout. And as they "prove up" those claims in the fullness of time each will get her $100. The titles to the land will then be made over to the ingenious inventors and backers of the scheme, and the land will be theirs. "Thus," in the language of a picturesque son of Montana, "a fellow can get a dukedom if he wants it." This is an absolutely true account of the conquest of a valley in Montana, and the future historian of our country will find much else of an interesting chapter in his records.—Julian Ralph in Harper's.

Carrying the Mail in Wyoming.

A thrilling story of adventure and peril comes from Johnson county, Wyo., the seat of the late cattle war. During the entire winter Contractor Stringer has been unable to carry the mail across the Big Horn mountains from Buffalo to Ten Sleep. In the belief that the summer season was sufficiently advanced to allow the trip to be made, he started from Buffalo on a string saddle horse and with four mules packed with mail pouches. Twenty-five miles of his traveling landed Stringer at an emergency cabin with his stock completely played out. Here he placed some mail on a toboggan, and strapping on a pair of snowshoes made another start for Ten Sleep.

In about fifteen miles one of the snowshoes was broken. The nearest haven was Stringer's own ranch, twelve miles distant. He was five days getting to it. Most of the way he crawled on his hands and knees. With hunger and exposure he was all but dead. Resting three days at his ranch, and making a new shoe, Stringer returned to the station for the abandoned stock and mail, and in a week went through to Ten Sleep. He returned to Buffalo, Wyo., May 1.—Omaha Bee.

Worth a Thousand Dollars

Every child born into a family is thought to be worth a thousand dollars to the parents. Why then should they not be cared for from infancy to maturity? Keep the mouth and teeth right with SOZODONT, and you will start them right.

The Tallest Man.

Not content with having in Miss Ella Ewing the tallest woman in the United States, Scotland county, Mo., now comes forward and claims the tallest man in the world. His name is Jode Webb, height 6 feet 7 1/2 inches, weight 155 pounds. He is to be made drum major of the Memphis band.—Farmers' Union.

To Chicago from the Seaboard.

A number of owners of steam yachts in New York intend to utilize them to transport themselves and their friends to the Chicago exposition by way of the St. Lawrence and Welland canal. They believe it will be of great advantage to live aboard their yachts and thus be independent of crowded hotels.

Lucky slash.

James Hash, of Richland township, Owen county, Ind., while digging on his farm, unearthed an old wooden box several feet below the surface, in which were twenty-three pieces of Spanish silver money. The old man—in dated back to 1810.

A Lunatic's Pension.

The pension recently awarded to Charles Glengold, of Wauwaring, N. Y., is one of the largest ever given to a private soldier. Unfortunately, the recipient is and has been for years a lunatic. He and his father were in the same company, and during a battle the father was shot down. This so affected the son as to cause mental disorder. He has been granted back pay to the amount of $10,770.40 and a pension of seventy-two dollars per month.—Yankee Blade.

Old Nursery Favorites.

There was Tom, the Son of the Piper, Jack Spar, and Merry King Cole, and the Three Wise Men of Gotham, Who went to sea in a boat; The woman who rode on a broomstick, And swept the cobwebbed eys, And the boy who sat in the corner, Eating his Christmas pie. These were some of the old favorites, but they have been supplanted by the "Fanny," and "Chatterbox" stories, "Little Lord Fauntleroy," and "Five Little Peppers." The Old fashioned pills and physics have been superseded, and wisely too, by Pierce's Purgative Pellets, a mild, harmless and effective cathartic. They are pleasant to take—so gentle in their action that the most delicate child can take them, yet so effective that they will cure the most obstinate cases of constipation, stomach, liver and bowel troubles. They should be in every nursery. As a gentle laxative, only one for a dose.

"August Flower"

Dyspepsia.

There is a gentleman at Malden-on-the-Hudson, N. Y., named Captain A. G. Pareis, who has written us a letter in which it is evident that he has made up his mind concerning some things, and this is what he says:

"I have used your preparation called August Flower in my family for seven or eight years. It is constantly in my house, and we consider it the best remedy for Indigestion, and Constipation we have ever used or known. My wife is troubled with Dyspepsia, and at times suffers very much after eating. The August Flower, however, relieves the difficulty. My wife frequently says to me when I am going to town, 'We are out of Constipation of August Flower, and I think you had better get another bottle.' I am also troubled with Indigestion, and whenever I am, I take one or two teaspoonfuls before eating, for a day or two, and all trouble is removed."

TOWN ORDINANCE NO. 14.

An Ordinance to Prevent the Erection or Maintenance of Barbed Wire Fencing in the Town of Reno.

THE BOARD OF COUNTY COMMISSIONERS of Washoe county, Nevada, by virtue of the power and authority in them vested by the laws of the State of Nevada, do ordain as follows:

Section 1. It shall be unlawful for any person or persons to erect or maintain any barbed wire fence or fences of any kind or for any purpose whatever within the limits of the town of Reno.

Section 2. Any barbed wire fence or fences of any kind or for any purpose whatever erected within the corporate limits of the town of Reno shall be deemed a nuisance.

Section 3. Any person or persons who shall hereafter erect or maintain any barbed wire fence or fences of any kind or for any purpose whatever within the limits of the town of Reno shall be liable to a fine of not exceeding twenty-five dollars, or may be imprisoned in the City and County Jail for not exceeding thirty days, or may be punished by both and not by either of the foregoing penalties.

Section 4. The Board of County Commissioners shall have the duty of the Judge or Justice before whom the case may be tried, in case of conviction, to enter an order directing the Chief of Police or other peace officers of said town to forthwith remove such nuisance.

Witness my hand and the seal of said Board of County Commissioners, this 20th day of June, 1892.

T. K. HYMERS, Chairman of Board of County Commissioners.

Attest: O. H. PEARCE, Clerk.

SHERIFF'S SALE.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE STATE OF Nevada, in and for the County of Washoe—Harry W. Orr, Plaintiff, vs. Adella Ordway and Johanna Barron, Administrators of the estate of Mark A. Barron, deceased, defendants.

Under and by virtue of an order of sale and decree of foreclosure and sale issued out of the District Court of the State of Nevada, in and for the County of Washoe, on the 14th day of June, A. Shopping with Dolly.

The air was warm and the clouds were few. The birds were chirping and hopping. And everything was pretty and new. When Dolly and I went shopping. Our money bank was a new and sweet. With its dandelion dillars. So we hurried away to O'rdon street To look for some cuffs and collars.

For a cap I bought her a great red rose. I'm certain she'll like it. And for lady slippers to fit her toes I was careful to leave her measure. And I told the spiders to spin some lace As evening garters they were made. And to sew the bands of dew in place, And then we'll be glad to take it.

—Eudora S. Bumstead in St. Nicholas.

"Why, Willie, why are you crying?"

"Boo-hoo! Mamma won't let me have any sugar on my honey."—Harper's Young People.

A Clock That Has a History.

A clock which hung in the chamber of Jefferson Davis while he was president of the Confederacy, but which was taken from the executive mansion on the day of the evacuation by a Union soldier and traded to a Richmond man for liquor, has been purchased by a gentleman and sent to the World's fair.

Twenty years ago a party of Mormons made numerous proselytes in the upper Androscooggin valley, and last week an emissary of the Church of Latter Day Saints baptized four converts at Dixfield Centre, in the same region.

The Russians have just had made two 118-ton guns for their Black sea fleet.

The English admiralty seems to value the big 118-ton barkers more as torpedo throwers than as mere armor piercing weapons.

Navigation on the Elbe was open during the whole of the month of March this year, whereas last year it was only possible toward the end of the month.

NO OTHER Sarsaparilla can produce from actual cures such wonderful statements of relief to human suffering as HOOD'S Sarsaparilla.
